

Delos Internet Expands Network Near Katy

Houston, Texas – June 8, 2011 - Delos Internet announced today that it has signed a rooftop and telecommunications agreement with Hospitality Properties to add the Crowne Plaza Houston West, which is located at 14703 Park Row as a network hub. This new POP which is the tallest building along Interstate 10 near Highway 6, increases Delos Internet's network reach to businesses and industry along the I-10 corridor near Katy, TX.

"With the completion of construction of additional lanes along I-10, we've seen that corridor expand tremendously over the past few years," said Ben Crawford, President of Delos Internet. "Now with the addition of the Crowne Plaza Houston West, we are another step closer to bringing our high speed network closer to the businesses that are underserved by copper and fiber carriers."

"We will continue to do what we do best, which is expand as far out as we can, and continue to reach the customers that are paying more and getting less. With the economy slow to recover, businesses are looking to shed expenses, and that includes their monthly telecommunication service. T1 providers just can't keep up with the speed businesses demand today, yet their pricing remains very high. Our product and service speaks for itself, and so we'll continue to expand to meet that demand."

Delos Internet is a provider of high speed Internet and private point-to-point data circuits to businesses throughout the Houston area. The company owns and operates a state-of-the-art fixed microwave network with connectivity throughout the city. The company's high performance gigabit network provides a reliable alternative to traditional copper providers but with much faster speeds.
